
November 5 – 7, 2008
Tokyo Institute of Technology

2nd Japan-Korea Joint Seminar 2008 and International Symposium: Synthesis and Application of Advanced Functional Materials (JKIS 08) will address contemporary research, both fundamental and applied, in the areas of synthesis, characterization, properties, and application of novel advanced macromolecules. Specially designed architectural polymers (e.g., shape, branch, and heterophase structures) are also included. Topics on physics and physical chemistry of the above-mentioned materials (e.g., solution and bulk properties, morphology, rheology, and self organization of supramolecular structures) are included as well. All scientists with interest in the topics of the Symposium are invited to present and discuss their research results. The technical program will include symposia with plenary lectures and invited speakers. The symposium is formally supported by the program of the Japan-Korea Bilateral Joint Seminar by both JSPS and KOSEF.

Organizers
Japan Society for the Promotion of Science: JSPS
Korea Science and Engineering Foundation: KOSEF
National Creative Research Initiative Center for Block Copolymer Self-Assembly / POSTECH
The Society of Polymer Science, Japan
Tokyo Institute of Technology, International Research Center of Macromolecular Science

Committee Members

Co-Chair Men
Akira Hirao (Tokyo Institute of Technology)
Jae-Suk Lee (Gwangju Institute of Science and Technology)
Jin Kon Kim (National Creative Research Initiative Center for Block Copolymer Self-Assembly / POSTECH)

Scientific Committee
Taihyun Chang (Pohang University of Science and Technology)
Wen-Chang Chen (National Taiwan University)
Rudolf Faust (University of Massachusetts Lowell)
Nikos Hadjichristidis (University of Athens)
Søeren Hvilsted (Technical University of Denmark)
Ian Manners (University of Bristol)
Yoshio Okamoto (Nagoya University)
Costas S. Patrickios (University of Cyprus)
Mitsuo Sawamoto (Kyoto University)

Organizing Committee
Mitsuru Ueda (Tokyo Institute of Technology)
Toyoji Kakuchi (Hokkaido University)
Masato Suzuki (Nagoya Institute of Technology)
Takashi Ishizone (Tokyo Institute of Technology)
Hideaki Yokoyama (University of Tokyo)
Toshifumi Sato (Hokkaido University)
Keiji Tanaka (Kyushu University)
Kenji Sugiyama (Tokyo Institute of Technology)

November 7th
9:00 - 10:20 Session 5 (Main Building 4F, 1st Meeting Room)
10:35 - 12:20 Session 6
13:20 - 15:30 Session 7
15:45 - 17:30 Session 8
17:30 - 17:45 Closing

Schedule of Presentations

Instructions for Presentation

The conference language is English. Plenary lectures will last 30 minutes including discussion. 25 minutes will be allowed for invited presentations including discussion.

LCD projector will be available for presentations. In order to reduce troubles with a large variety of different data formats, we will ask all presenters to bring a USB flash memory containing a Power Point 2003 presentation file in IBM-PC format. Unfortunately, Apple Macintosh computers are not available. Please bring your own Powerbook.
Registration for Participant
Registration
Please register via the email address provided (ksugiyam@polymer.titech.ac.jp) before November 1, 2008. We will send you a confirmation of registration via email.

Registration Fee
The fees include participation at the symposium and a book for presentation abstracts (to be handed out at the venue).
